Dear Hiring Manager,

I am a co-op student currently seeking web development opportunities, and I believe the knowledge I have of the front-end aspect of web(HTML, JavaScript, CSS) and strong will to learn more about the back-end would make me a suitable candidate for the position. I hope I can contribute my skills to your company and be given the opportunity to step up in my career towards becoming a professional full stack developer.

I am currently enrolled in Computer Programming and Analysis program in Seneca College where I have practiced and worked on number of web and database projects both individually and as a team. I have also dedicated time to work on multiple personal web projects aside from school to always improve myself. I am a person with a great attention to detail, constantly researching/exploring for different ways for problem solving with an open mind. I possess strong organization and time management skills, and I take my responsibilities seriously.

It would be an honour to work as a member of your team and I strongly believe I can contribute towards your goals with my ongoing desire to constantly improve and grow professionally. I have attached my resume for your consideration, and greatly appreciate your time in reading this letter. You can reach me at jlee689@myseneca.ca, and I look forward to discussing my qualifications with you in more detail.

Sincerely,

Sangin Lee
